"Margin calls!"
November 23, 2026

Dear Sirs/Madams,

The earliest bird registration to the biggest private Russian agricultural event: the 18-th International agribusiness Conference «Where the Margin Is» is ongoing up until December 1, 2026.
The Conference is to take place on February 15-16, 2026, in Radisson Slavyanskaya Hotel, Moscow.

Both off and online registration are possible. Simultaneous translation will be available during the second day of the conference both for off and online participants.

Just to remind: February 2026 Conference assembled more than 650 highly ranking agribusiness executives from more than 40 regions of Russia, as well as foreign countries' participants. The "land bank" of farmers – participants exceeded 9 mha of domestic arable land.

In previous winter conference - 2026 the share of the participating companies - Russian grain exporters - exceeded 75%, vegoils and high protein meals exporters - 85%, sugar exporters - 80%. Among the participants there were reps of major domestic animal protein powerhouses, all three major domestic wheat mills, etc.

New 2027 Winter event speakers:

Korney Bizhdov, president, National Union of ag insures

Andrey Bodin, chairman, Russian Sugar Union

Yuri Kovalev, general director, National Pig Growers Union

Mikhail Maltsev, executive director, Fats and Oil Union of Russia

Vladislav Novoselov, executive director, BEFL

Nikita Tokmakov, head of a peasant farm, blogger, member of agro-education and digitalization working groups by the Ministry of Agriculture

Traditionally, the Conference activities are broken down into two days. First day is devoted to brief workshops, round tables, and presentations on various aspects of farming and associated activities; second is the day of plenary sessions with simultaneous translation, devoted mostly to market situation and outlook, agricultural policies, trade, and other strategic issues.

For better understanding of the size, scope, and caliber of the event, you might wish to study the Archive of previous conferences.

We wish you a pleasant continuation of 2026/27 agricultural season.
On behalf of Organizing committee,
Sincerely, Dmitri Rylko
General director
